

October 2009

Sun	Mon	Tue	Wed	Thu	Fri	Sat
				1	2	3
4	5	6	7	8	9	10
11	12 Columbus Day	13	14	15	16	17
18	19	20	21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28	29	30	31  Halloween

CELEBRATING CENTENARIANS Willie Brandon, 103

Photo: John A Gillis
Courtesy of Daily News Journal

(above) County Commissioner Joyce Ealy gives Willie Brandon a balloon that says "Happy Birthday Slugger" at Brandon's 103rd birthday party at the courthouse.

(left) Willie Brandon in his truck, which he still drives.

This past June 12th, Willie Brandon celebrated his 103rd birthday at the Rutherford County Courthouse in Tennessee with friends, colleagues and county residents. An odd location for a birthday party? Not for Brandon, who has been celebrating his birthday at the courthouse since he began his maintenance job there some 32 years ago. At age 71, when many folks have retired, Brandon started his new job. Co-workers describe him as humble, hard-working, gentlemanly and a Christian role model. He is all of those and more, proving that pride in your work and the way you treat other people is truly the measure of a person.

Read more about Willie Brandon: adlercentenarians.org